This October, the Top 500 Networking Breakfast is breaking the conventions of ordinary business interaction, giving an exclusive opportunity for South Africa's number one companies from across 100 sectors to connect and solidify future business partnerships.

Wining and dining potential business partners is a thing of the past, fast track networking (FTN) is the future. It is a new age speed dating for business professionals and gives key decision-makers the opportunity to create a new web of contacts in just 10 minutes.

This high-profile event is in association with the Top 500 South Africa's Best Managed Companies publication, an annual catalogue of the nation's top companies profuse in business excellence from across 100 sectors.
