25 Nov 2015

With the deadline for entries to the prestigious IAB SA Bookmark Awards extended to 30 November, digital marketers have one last opportunity to enter and do battle for the industry's most coveted awards across eight categories, of which the Community category is one.

The Bookmark Awards celebrate the country's most creative and high-impact digital executions and rewards excellence in digital advertising and publishing work, benchmarked against the highest international standards.

"Marketing to online communities is fast becoming one of the most important components of digital marketing," says Fred Roed, Head of IAB SA's Agency Council. "Communities provide the opportunity to turn happy customers into brand ambassadors. There are some really innovative community initiatives in the country, and this category celebrates those efforts."

The COMMUNITY category comprises the following subcategories:

- Existing Social Communities

Ongoing permanent homes for brands or publishers on social media - think Wrigley's Facebook page or Deloitte's LinkedIn page.

- New Social Communities

Newly launched social media homes for brands or publishers - think CNN on Snapchat.

- Innovative Use of Social Media

Use of social media in a particularly clever, new or innovative way to achieve results. Think Mercedes-Benz GLA designer on Instagram.

- Use of User Generated Content

Best use of user-generated content to achieve a marketing or publishing goal. Think Wendy's Bacon Pretzel Cheeseburger.

- Social Media Campaigns

Best campaigns where social media is at the core of the campaign strategy and mechanic. Think #VolvoContest at the Superbowl.

- Online PR

"Entrants into the Channel categories should keep channel limitations in mind," advises Roed. "All entries need to be in line with the relevant promotional guidelines and limitations of that channel. For instance, Facebook promotional guidelines will need to be adhered to when taking into consideration the success of a campaign or community building."

The absolute final deadline for entries is Monday, 30 November 2015. Those who have not yet done so can submit their entries at <http://iabsa.net/bookmarks/>.
