Vega, a brand of the Independent Institute of Education (The IIE), will host a National Open Day on Saturday, 24 March 2018.

Vega invites parents, scholars and prospective students to attend its next open day for the year, taking place at Vega campuses nationwide on 24 March 2018. The open day will give prospective students and their parents a first-hand glimpse into a day in the life of a Vega student.

Open days at Vega are structured to allow parents and students to meet with its campus navigators and gain insight into what each course is really all about.

“The school prides itself on being a highly interactive environment, providing our students with real-world, on-the-ground experience,” says Nicky Stanley, national marketing manager at Vega School.

“These open days allow prospective students to experience the best our campuses have to offer, providing context of The IIE qualifications available to study at Vega, and allowing them to engage with lecturers at Vega on a first-hand basis.”

In case you needed any more convincing, here’s a few more reasons you should be considering stopping by at the next Vega Open day:

#2 – We’re the thought leaders and trailblazers in brand, design, and business.

#21 - We don’t do left or right brains – we believe in whole brains.

#40 - 123 Loeries and counting.

#59 - We believe that brands can change the world.

#66 - We have fun being serious and are serious about having fun.
