Cornerstone Institute is proud to announce the upcoming Cornerstone Conference, scheduled to take place on 17 July 2024, from 8.30am to 4pm at the Auditorium, Cornerstone Institute, located at 1 Cedar Street, Sandown, Milnerton Rural, Western Cape.

With a theme centered around "Higher education (HE) in a changing world: How do shifting contexts influence our work in HE, and how should we respond to them?", the conference aims to foster academic dialogue among researchers from various institutions in Africa and beyond.

We invite academics and researchers to submit abstracts on topics relevant to the conference theme and subthemes.

Conference subthemes:

- Teaching and learning in and for a changing world
- Humans in higher education

- Research in and for a changing world
- Governance in higher education
- Community engagement in higher education

Each sub theme encompasses critical topics affecting higher education today, providing a platform for meaningful discussion and collaboration.

Accepted formats include:

- 20-minute in-person presentations or interviews
- 10-minute video presentations or interviews
- 30-minute discussion facilitation
- A1 portrait printed posters
- A4 portrait digital posters
- 500-word opinion pieces
- 200-word book reviews

Abstract submissions are open until 6 May 2024. Full conference submissions must be received by 24 May 2024, via <https://cornerstone.ac.za/conference> or email journal@cornerstone.ac.za. Accepted submissions will be considered for publication in the prestigious African Journal of Non-Profit Higher Education (AJNPHE). Contributors may also direct their submissions only to the journal.

Join us at The Cornerstone Conference 2024 to explore the future of higher education and contribute to shaping its trajectory in a rapidly evolving world.
