

Wan-Ifra appoints new heads to lead World Editors Forum

The board of the World Editors Forum (WEF) has appointed Martha Ramos, the editorial director of Organización Editorial Mexicana (OEM), Mexico, as president, and David Walmsley, the editor-in-chief of Globe and Mail, Canada, as deputy president.

During this critical period for journalism, these acclaimed newsroom executives will provide leadership to the worldwide editorial community.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>