

FCB South Africa seeks new chairman as Ralebitso resigns

After a year as Group Chairman of FCB South Africa, Mohale Ralebitso has decided to resign and divest in FCB South Africa to focus on his investment company, Itataise and its other equity investments. FCB's Worldwide CEO Carter Murray said, "Mohale has strong business acumen and I'd like to thank him for his contribution to FCB South Africa's success over the past year. He was instrumental in helping Brett Morris transition from CCO to CEO and it has been a huge success - with Brett being recently ranked as one of the 'Most Admired Agency Leaders' in South Africa."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>