

McDonald's opens its 250th store in partnership with franchisee

McDonald's recently opened its 250th store in partnership with one of its franchisees, Peter Moyanga, who also celebrated the opening of his ninth store. Moyanga was one of the very first McDonald's employees in South Africa, and is today, one of the company's 40 franchisees, building his business mainly in his hometown in the East Rand of Johannesburg, with expansion into the Gauteng and Mpumalanga provinces.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>