

Zimbabwean farmer grows UK's first white sweetcorn

Zimbabwean farmer, David Mwanaka, has provided supermarket chain Sainsbury's with the first ever UK white sweetcorn. Usually grown in America, the white sweetcorn is sweeter than its yellow cousin; however this crop has been cultivated in the unlikely setting of rural Enfield, London. Read the full article on www.bizcommunity.com

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>