

Howard Fox named new GIBS commercial director

The Gordon Institute of Business Science has appointed Howard Fox as its new commercial director. Fox previously served as the executive director: marketing at GIBS and has three decades of marketing and senior-level commercial and general management experience.

Fox has worked with a number of organisations including the Liberty Group. Fox holds a master's degree in marketing, an MBA and the CMSA Professional Designation.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>