

Africa Melane to present this year's Eco-Logic Awards

Enviropaedia will be hosting the annual Eco-Logic Awards ceremony at the CSIR in Tshwane on 14 June 2017. The awards acknowledge the innovations and achievements of the environmentally friendly industry and rewards the steps taken to address several environmental challenges.

The event is held as a culmination of Sustainability Week, which runs from 13 to 15 June 2017. This year's awards will be presented by radio personality Africa Melane and guests have been asked to dress 'glamorously green' or as their 'alter-eco-ego'.
