

Course for upping your Internet skills

Long-distance education provider Intec College is now offering an e-Citizen course covering Internet navigation and operation, from training on social media (blogging and podcasting) to banking and submitting tax returns online, reports IOLjobs. For more, click here.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com