A recent special offer on Bizcommunity's entry-level business directory listing, The BizListing, received an unexpectedly generous response. An industry leader, recognising the benefit of a presence for small businesses on Biz, contacted us with a heartwarming offer of the purchase of 10 BizListings, as a donation to deserving SMEs.

The benefactress, Nishi Singh, is MD of NSP Consultants, a South African company helping organisations achieve business excellence through business services such as management, systems, processes and leadership consulting.
