

Techsys Digital awarded key Virgin Active platform

Issued by Techsys Digital

23 Nov 2017

Virgin Active's recent multi-agency pitch process resulted in Techsys Digital being awarded the contract to build and support their next-generation e-learning platform.

The platform will deliver course content across multiple devices types and support outbound communication and engagement tracking. Our cloud-hosted solution will cater for internal Virgin Active staff, as well as their external contractors, enabling them to complete their courses using the VASA online portal, from anywhere in the world.

Says Deon Scheppel (Virgin Active Product Training Manager), "We were really impressed by the innovative approach Techsys took in solving our business challenge. We look forward to working with them to deliver a solid solution."

Andrew Walmsley, Founder and Managing Director of Techsys Digital, says, "Virgin Active is one of the biggest health club brands in the world and we couldn't be more excited about being their go-to agency for this ongoing project."
