

Vastly experienced Juba Mashaba joins Cell C

Cell C has appointed Juba Mashaba as its new chief human resources officer, effective 1 June 2019.

Mashaba joins Cell C from Aveng, where he served as an executive director and director of HR since 2007. The appointment comes as part of a brand new transformation initiative at Cell C, aimed at creating an environment of employee empowerment and business conversion.

Mashaba steps into the role formerly held by Juliet Mhango, who has been appointed as the chief human capital development and transformation officer.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>