

Clint Daries named CIO at Novus Holdings

Clint Daries has been appointed as Novus Holdings' new chief information officer. Daries joined Novus Holdings as an IT service delivery manager a year ago.

Daries holds several IT qualifications with specialities in software development, project management, IT infrastructure management, and IT service management.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>