

W&RSETA Goods Practice Awards acknowledges South Africa's best

The annual W&RSETA Goods Practice Awards acknowledges winners of the various categories for their good practice in the wholesale and retail sector.

Guided by Minnie Dlamini, as awards show host, winners not only walked away with an award but also a sense of great pride in their aim to bring forth innovation and excellence amongst fellow entrepreneurs, businesses and students. Each category was presented by a W&RSETA official and a local celebrity including Sophie Ndaba, Jason Goliath, Liesl Laurie, Clint Brink, Refilwe Modiselle, Pearl Modiadie, Proverb, Nakhane Toure, Nambitha Ben-Mazwi, Roxy Burger and Bokang Montjane.

Winners of some of the awards included:

- Women in leadership award - Venessa Chetty (JD Group)
- Special learner (student) award - Mmatau Morekhure (The Smollan Group)
- Non-levy paying companies - Molobela Roadway Tuckshop
- Small companies - Mica Nelspruit
- Large companies - Dischem Pharmacies
- Medium companies - Process Sales
- Super large companies - Woolworths

Photographer: Songi Langeni

“We took a different approach this year to give our stakeholders a befitting and glittering event, worthy of their contribution in making skills development a reality in the Wholesale and Retail Sector, which in turn contributes to the growth of our country and making a difference in the lives of South Africans,” said Martha Shingane, marketing and communications manager, W&RSETA.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>