

Dickies launches e-commerce store

Workwear and apparel manufacturing company Dickies has officially launched its e-commerce store in South Africa. This move is part of the brand's objective to expand and grow the shopper's wardrobe through ease of access and variety.

The Dickies online store provides customers access to its range of products and ensures that all customers' needs such as size and colour preference are met.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>