According to the company, this is aimed at entertaining, educating, and providing informative content for children during the holiday period without subscription.

Commenting the latest move, StarTimes Public Relations manager, Kunmi Balogun, said, “The kids can now watch the popular Paw patrol on Nickelodeon among other great educative content. We are staying true to one of our core values which is to provide and entertain viewers with timely, uncommon and innovative content”.

“The holiday season for children is upon us and we have a whole lot of fantastic content lined up to ensure they enjoy their summer break with family,” added Balogun.
